

Mood/Moment/Character		Emotions/Feelings/Behaviour
Positive	Negative	Positive	Negative accord - agreement, consent, give	abomination - causing disgust, hatred	absorbed - take in/soak up	abhorrent - disgust and loathing ambition - desire for success	callous - a person or action which is cruel	admirable - deserving admiration	abominable - causing moral revulsion appealing - attractive or interesting	censure - to criticise strongly	adore - to love intensely	alarming - to feel frightened astounding - overwhelm/amazement	coerce - to do something against your will	affable - friendly, courteous	angst - feeling of anxiety or dread attractive - arouse interest/admiration	condemn - to express strong disapproval	agreeable - pleasing, willing to agree	anguish - mental or physical pain becoming - attractive or pleasing	confront - to meet face to face	alluring - attract, charm or entice	appalling - horrifying, shocking captivating - attract and hold attention	crass - repulsive, gross, vulgar, foul, loud	amiable - friendly and pleasant	arrogant - inflated sense of importance challenging - demanding/stimulating	critical - to find fault or judge severely	amusing - causing laughter, entertaining	brooding - deep unhappiness collaborate - work with another	dark - gloomy, sullen, evil or wicked	appeasing - pacify or placate, calm	chauvinist - show prejudiced support comforting - console, soothe	delirious - wildly excited	aspiration - desire, ambition	contemptible - despicable comical - amusing, funny or silly	depressing - difficult and unpleasant, sad	blissful - extremely happy, full of joy	contemptuous - scornful conciliatory - pacify, end disagreement	desist - cease, stop	captivating - attract and hold interest	contrite - feeling or expressing remorse condone - forgive, overlook, accept	desolate - bleak and dismal emptiness	celestial - divinely good, heavenly	decadent - luxuriously self-indulgent consenting - agreement, permission	despicable - hated or despised	charismatic - compelling charm	depraved - morally corrupt contented - satisfied	diabolical - very bad, extreme or unpleasant	charming - very pleasant	derision - contemptuous ridicule crucial - very important	dim - a disapproving view of something	chortle - a gleeful chuckle	despondent - low spirits, loss of hope dazzling - impressive	dismal - causing deep sadness, dreary	composed - calm, self-possessed	dishevelled - untidy, ruffled, disorder decisive - quick to decide, conclusive	distressing - suffering caused by pain	congenial - pleasant temperament	farcical - absurdly futile, pretence dramatic - theatrical, a drama	disturbing - to feel upset or worried	contemplate - regard as possible	flippant - disrespectful or shallow essential - necessary	dull - low in spirits, listless	cordial - friendly, heartfelt, relaxed	frightful - very unpleasant, shocking exquisite - extremely beautiful	fateful - involving momentous consequences	craving - strong desire, longing	haughty - arrogantly superior festive - joyous, cheerful	flawed - a mistake in a theory or argument	delightful - charming, great pleasure	heinous - utterly wicked or odious crime foremost - first, most importantly	gloomy - depressing or pessimistic	demeanour - outward behaviour	immoral - not conforming to standards fundamental - essential, primary	heartless - unfeeling or cruel	desire - long for, unsatisfied longing	insufferable - unbearably conceited generous - giving, abundant	hostile - unfriendly and antagonistic	docile - ready to accept control	insulting - to treat with disrespect genre - kind or style of art	ill - to feel sick or unwell	droll - quaintly amusing, strange, odd	intimidate - to frighten by using fear gratifying - something gives you pleasure	inadequate - lacking abilities or qualities	ebullient - full of enthusiasm, lively	loathsome - causing hatred or disgust handsome - good looking	indifferent - not caring towards something	enchanted - charming, attractive	melancholy - long lasting sadness hospitable - giving hospitality	insidious - secretly deceitful, mislead	enigmatic - mysterious	menacing - threatening, dangerous idyllic - peaceful, or picturesque	insignificant - unimportant or small matter	enthralled - captured fascination	mournful - feeling regret or grief imperative - urgent, essential	malicious - deliberate intent to harm	flattering - compliment unduly	obnoxious - extremely unpleasant impressive - arousing respect	meagre - lacking in quantity or quality	fulfilled - completely happy, satisfied	patronising - treat condescendingly intimate - to imply, make known	measly - stingy, small, inadequate	genial - friendly and cheerful	pensive - deep or serious thought introspective - examine own thoughts	meek - quiet, gentle, easily imposed on	gracious - kindly, esp. to inferiors	perturbed - anxious or unsettled mediate - go-between, peacemaker	merciless - showing no mercy	harmonious - pleasing, consistent	petulant - impatient or irritable momentous - very important	monotonous - lacking in variety, tedious	hilarious - extremely funny	pinning - to waste away with grief motivating - stimulating interest	nauseating - fill with revulsion, disgust	humorous - showing humour, comic	pompous - irritating self-importance noteworthy - worthy of attention	oblivious - not aware of	influential - having great influence on	preoccupied - otherwise engrossed objective - purpose	ominous - threatening, inauspicious	inspiring - to create a positive feeling	provocative - provoke anger, sexual desire pacifying - appease, soothe	outrageous - shocking, immoral, offensive	joyful - cheerful and friendly	reflective - deep thought, thoughtful passive - submissive, accepting	paltry - worthless, trifling, contemptible	joyous - full of happiness and joy	regretful - feeling or showing regret picturesque - pleasant to look at	petty - unimportant, trivial, small-minded	magnanimous - nobly generous	remorseful - deep regret for a wrong principle - fundamental truth	reprimand - official rebuke	magnetic - very attractive personality	repentant - to express sincere regret prominent - distinguished	reproach - to express disapproval	meditative - considered thought	rueful - showing regret in a humorous way quaint - attractively odd	repugnant - extremely distasteful,	merry - cheerful and lively, gaiety	ruffian - a violent lawless person rationale - fundamental reason	repulsive - causing aversion or loathing	nonchalant - calm and casual	ruthless - having no pity or compassion rhetoric - speaking or writing to impress	shallow - of little depth, superficial	placid - unruffled, not easily disturbed	slovenly - untidy and dirty satisfying - adequate, fulfil	stingy - mean, ungenerous	pleasing - causing pleasure	sombre - gloomy, dismal, forbidding scenic - picturesque	supercilious - haughtily contemptuous	pleasurable - causing pleasure	spiteful - malicious, a desire to harm segue - an uninterrupted transition	sycophant - a flatterer, yes-man, parasite	ponder - to think about carefully	stoush - brawl, fight serendipity - accidental happy discovery	taxing - physically or mentally demanding	serene - peaceful and untroubled	threatening - having a hostile manner serenity - calm, tranquil	tedious - tiresomely long, wearisome	sociable - engaging in activities	tormenting - physical or mental suffering significant - important	trifling - unimportant, frivolous	soothing - calming, mitigate	vacillate - alternate or waver between spectacular - striking, impressive	trivial - of small value, of little importance	submissive - humble, obedient	vilify - speak ill of, defame stimulating - exciting, arousing	uncaring - not displaying sympathy	thrilled - feeling of excitement	vindictive - a desire for revenge striking - attracting attention	unforgiving - not willing to forgive	vindicate - clear of blame or suspicion	vitriolic - caustic speech or criticism thought-provoking - to think about	unworthy - not worthy or befitting	virtuous - morally good	wicked - evil or morally wrong tranquil - free from disturbance	vile - disgusting, depraved, unpleasant	vivacious - lively, animated	wistful - feeling of regretful longing ubiquitous - found everywhere	vulgar - coarse, lacking sophistication	vociferous - loud and insistent in speech	woeful - causing sorrow or misery vital - essential to life/success	vulnerable - easily wounded or harmed	witty - sharp and quick humour	yearning - a feeling of loss or longing